Brothers and Sisters,

This issue of the Argus is the first edition of a new weekly Ann Arbor Argus, if you can believe that.

You may have noticed the price change. You also may have noticed 8 fewer pages or even the fact that 15¢ a week adds up to more than 25¢ every two or more. But if so, you're missing the point somewhere.

The point is that there is war in Amerika. Heavier than the Tony Rahar story on the next page is the tale of a brother in town this week from San Diego. You can pick up on the details of the uncovered undercover agent (who infiltrated the Black Panther Party and the militant Movement for a Democratic Military for two years) either in this week's L.A. Free Press, which you can score in Ann Arbor, or the San Diego Street Journal, which you'd probably have to send for (But it's worth it! Write to Box 1332, San Diego, Ca 92112. Send a dollar or three.).

Which brings up another point. People should lean on that old monopoly-capitalist Ray Collins at the Blue Front to carry more underground papers. He refuses to take what we know he can sell.

COMMUNITY MEETING

Also a first, there will be an Argus/Community gathering at our house this Saturday, Flag Day Eve, at 2:00 in the afternoon. The address is 708 Arch. Come to struggle and criticize, but be prepared to have a good time. In particular we need the voices of the more heavily stoned elements of the community, for it's those high sisters and brothers that we primarily serve.

If anybody knows of a caricaturist, we'd like to offer him a free place to live.

Y.I.P.

WE ARE A PEOPLE

We are a new nation.
We believe in life.
And we want to live now.
We want to live 24 hours a day.
Nine-to five Amerika doesn't even live on weekends.

Amerika is a death machine. It is run on and for money whose power determines a society based on war, racism, sexism, and the destruction of the planet.
Our life-energy is the greatest threat to the machine.

So they're out to stop us.
They have to make us like them.
They cut our hair, ban our festivals, put cops and narcs in the schools, put 200,000 of us in jail for smoking flowers, induct us, housewive us,Easy-Rider murder us.

Amerika has declared war on our New Nation!

WE WILL BUILD AND DEFEND OUR NEW NATION

But we continue to live and grow.
We are young, we have beautiful ideas about the way we should live. We want everyone to control their own life and care about one another.And we will defend our freedom because we can't live any other way.

We will continue to seize control of our minds and our bodies. We can't do it in their schools so we'll take them over and create our own. We can't do it in their Army, so we'll keep them from taking our brothers. We can't make it in their jobs, so we'll work only to survive. We can't relate to each other like they do – our nation is based on cooperation not competition.

We will provide for all that we need to build and defend our nation. We will teach each other the true history of Amerika so that we may learn from the past to survive in the present. We will teach each other the tactics of self-defense. We will provide free health services: birth control and abortions, drug information, medical care, that this society is not providing us with. We will begin to take control of drug manufacture and distribution, and stop the flow of bad shit. We will make sure that everyone has a decent place to live: we will fight landlords, renovate buildings, live communally, have places for sisters and brothers from out-of-town, and for runaways and freed prisoners. We will set up national and international transportation and communication so that we can be together with our sisters and brothers from different parts of the country and the world.
We will fight the unnatural division between cities and country by facilitating travel and communication.

We will end the domination of women by men, and children by adults.

The well-being of our nation is the well-being of all peace-loving people.

WE WILL HAVE PEACE

We cannot tolerate attitudes, institutions, and machines whose purpose is the destruction of life, the accumulation of "profit".

Schools and universities are training us for roles in Amerika's empire of endless war. We cannot allow them to use us for the military-industrial profiteers.

Companies that produce waste, poisons, germs, and bombs have no place in this world.

We are living in the capital of the world war being waged against life. We are not good Germans. We who are living in this strategic center of Babylon, must make it our strategic center. We can and we must stop the death machine from butchering the planet.

We will shut the motherfucker down!

WE WILL MAKE OUR NEW NATION FIT FOR LIVING THINGS

We will seize Amerika's technology and use it to build a nation based on love and respect for all life.
Our new society is not about the power of a few men but the right of all humans, animals, and plants to play out their natural roles in harmony.
We will build our communities to reflect the beauty inside us.

People all over the world are fighting to keep Amerika from turning their countries into parking lots!

WE WILL BE TOGETHER WITH ALL THE TOGETHER PEOPLES OF THIS EARTH

Pig Empire is ravaging the globe, but the beautiful people everywhere are fighting back.
New Nation is one with the black, brown, red, & yellow nations.

Che said:

"You North Amerikans are very lucky. You live in the middle of the beast.
You are fighting the most important fight of all, in the center of the battle.
If I had my wish, I would go back with you to North Amerika to fight there.
I envy you."

YOUTH INTERNATIONAL PARTY

RECONSTITUTE IT!

WASHINGTON [LNS] – Thousands of people will rally in front of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington June 19, responding to a call issued by the Black Panther Party and the National Committee to Combat Fascism.

A people's meeting and a march will take place near the memorial to the American President who is often referred to as the "Great Emancipator" for issuing a proclamation in 1863 that supposedly freed the black people of America.

The Panthers will hold a national press conference to announce the exact date and place of the Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention to be held later this summer. Huey P. Newton, Minister of Defence, will issue an Executive Mandate at the June 19 action.

The Panthers have declared that it is now time to invoke the "right to revolution" clause in the Declaration of Independence, and to redefine the Constitution in light of the brazen violation of the rights of Chairman Bobby Seale and many others in the black community.

FREE TONY

There is no law in Amerika today, only the honkie power structure. –John Sinclair, just before sentencing.

LANSING, Michigan [Informed Sources]—Tony Rahar is 20 years old and in the eyes of the state stands to spend the next 20 (at least) in jail. The usual propaganda of pigs, politics and perjury was used by prosecutor R. David Wilson in railroading Tony through the Ingham County Circus Court. He was convicted of selling junk to two "confidential informers," Chip Clawson and Robert Whitmore on 5 January 1970.

Brother Tony, a vague acquaintance of Clawson and a total stranger to Whitmore, maintains his innocence. Benjamin Gibson, defense attorney, expressed shock at the jury's decision and is preparing an appeal.

More than 80 friends and relatives sat in utter disbelief through three days of belligerent negligence as motions for a mistrial were repeatedly denied by Judge Jack W. Warren. The judge's demanding attitude interrupted the proceedings on several occasions. One was to order a muscular spectator to put on a shirt over his shirt. Another time he stopped in order to have removed a large painting of a concerned Christ. Warren declared, "No such articles will be allowed."

Several dozen painted faces in the courtroom froze as the first prosecution witness, Robert Whitmore, testified he was a confidential informant. He added nervously that on 5 Jan 1970 at 506 W. Genesee a sale of heroin occured in a back bedroom. He testified that present were Chip Clawson, Marv Calvin, Richie Hull and Tony Rahar. Whitmore said he did all the talking and then exchanged a twenty-dollar bill for a tin foil packet. The bread had been given to him, so he claimed, minutes before in an East Lansing park by Killer Narc Brown. Accompanying him was Pig Cochran and his silver dreams of promotion. After obtaining the packet, Whitmore continued, he and Clawson split to deliver the item to Porkchop Hill in the Albert Pick Motel.

Under cross-examination Whitmore reluctantly admitted two drug charges—for sale—which were either reduced or dismissed. He denied any compensation was received from the pigs for his services, implying that his only rewards as "mystery pig" were in drug convictions. When questioned concerning his personal drug use, he acknowledged being under treatment for heroin addiction.

The prosecutor's second perjuror, Chip Clawson, testified softly. He said he called Tony at 11:30 on 5 Jan 1970 to arrange a purchase of junk. He stated that around noon he arrived with Robert Whitmore at the Genesse address. In the rear bedroom they met Marv Calvin, Rich Hull and Tony Rahar. Clawson said he did all the talking and handed a twenty-dollar bill to Marv Calvin. He explained that he owed Calvin $10, so only $10 was returned. This bread was then supposedly given to Brother Tony for a tin foil packet. Then Clawson and Whitmore left the residence and provided the waiting narcs with the packet.

Under cross-examination Clawson admitted two drug charges which had been dismissed or reduced. He confessed to using heroin. When asked if he received monetary incentive from the fuckin pigs, he weakly squealed "no."

The prosecution called Rich Hull to the stand. Hull declared Whitmore and Clawson arrived at the Genesee address near noon on 5 Jan 1970. Hull maintained that, after a brief exchange of hello's, Tony asked Whitmore, Calvin and himself to leave the room.

Hull's testimony visibly disturbed Wilson, who resumed sharply, "Mr. Hull, isn't your testimony considerably different from your previous statements to me?"

He replied, "No, I'm just going into more detail."

"Why didn't you include those details previously when I talked to you?"

"Well, you didn't ask and I didn't offer."

Court was adjourned for lunch.

Upon resumption of the case of The Pigs vs. Brother Tony and The People, a contempt charge was laid down on Norris Gibson, 20, for allegedly threatening the life of one of the "confidential informants." His trial is 19 June in Judge "Julius's" vacuum.

Hull returned to the stand and testified under cross-examination that no sale took place in his presence at that address on that day or any other day.

Marvin Calvin became the prosecutor's next disaster. He declared, when asked if he had witnessed any heroin sale at 506 W. Genesee, "Absolutely not. Never." Whitmore had testified Calvin must have observed the sale in the rear bedroom.

The Parade of Pork commenced with oinking from detectives Brown, Cochran, and Christy. All grunted harmoniously to the music of prosecutor Wilson and his rhetorical rubbish.

Then Brother Tony took the stand. Shoulder-length hair embraced the cold bitter eyes of a man falsely accused. He testified that he had received a phone call from Chip Clawson before noon on 5 Jan 1970. He explained that Clawson wanted to rap with him about "a personal misunderstanding." Clawson and Whitmore did arrive shortly after noon. After a casual exchange of hello's, Tony asked Calvin, Hull and Whitmore to leave the room. He stated that Clawson then inquired if Tony "was uptight about something." Clawson remarked that he had heard Tony didn't trust him. Tony assured Clawson he did trust him, and Clawson left the room. Then he and Whitmore split.

The testimonies of two junkie felons were then offered in conflict with the testimonies of Rich Hull, Marv Calvin and Brother Tony, while the defense was restrained from advising the jury of the twenty-year mandatory sentence for the sale of heroin.

It is the responsibility of the prosecutor to establish proof of guilt beyond any reasonable doubt.

It is the responsibility of the jury to favor the defendant in view of conflicting testimony.

After two hours of deliberation, a guilty verdict was announced. Marcie Mac Kensie, 18, screamed "You stupid fucking people!" then bolted amid the chaos of the courtroom. Her arrest for the illegal possession of her human rights added to the insanity of this mockery.

Tension increased as squads of "Lansing's finest" huddled near the courtroom door in polished riot gear, the expressions under their plastic veils revealing anxious contempt. The Amerikan freedom myth collapsed as the stunned supporters were openly invited to challenge the pigs' sickness: "What was the verdict, kid? What was the verdict?"

It is the intention of this community to appeal this political execution—

Brother Tony is not a criminal!
Brother Tony is not a drug pusher!
Brother Tony is not guilty!

Yet we may be guilty if he is permitted to join Brother John Sinclair as a fascist casualty in the torture dungeons of Amerika.

Help us free Brother Tony.

Information concerning defense contributions and additional activities may be obtained by calling 517-372-8604. Tony's birthday is 17 June. You can write to him any time:

GAY PRIDE WEEK

FROM CHICAGO GAY LIBERATION

In June 1969, the Stonewall, a gay bar in New York City, was raided by police for failing to pay off. There followed three days and nights of demonstrations by homosexuals who had had their fill of victimization and exploitation at the hands of police, bars, and society at large. Out of the new sense of militancy grew the Gay Liberation Front, a movement of homosexual men and women who fight for the right to be themselves. The Gay Liberation movement is growing rapidly throughout the country, and groups in the midwest include: Kansas City, Mo.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Detroit, E. Lansing, Ann Arbor, and Kalamazoo, Mich.; Madison and Milwaukee, Wisc.; DeKalb, Normal, Champaign, Carbondale, Evanston, and Chicago, Illinois.

Chicago Gay Liberation will bring together all the midwest brothers and sisters for Gay Pride Week to celebrate the first anniversary of our struggle for freedom. Main events will be a rally and a march, the biggest Gay Liberation dance ever, and the Midwest Regional Gay Liberation Conference. All events will take place from Monday 22 June to Sunday 28 June. There is no registration fee. Accomodations will be provided by Gay Liberation people for all out-of-towners. Housing Central is 337-0579, Richard or Nick. Call when you arrive.

Workshops will begin early in the week and continue on into the weekend. Topics include: Gay Liberation Publications, Sex Role Breakdown (with Women's Liberation), Gay Liberation Organizing (new groups), Legal Action (busts, job discrimination, etc.), Education and Social Change, Religion and the Homosexual, Special Health Problems, Gay Lib and the Movement (political action), Social Activities, Gay Women and Women's Liberation, Gay Culture and the Arts. For exact time and location of workshops call 955-7433, Henry.

Saturday 27 June, at 12:00 noon is the Gay Pride Rally and March. The rally will take place at Bughouse Square (Dearborn and Walton Streets), one of Chicago's main cruising parks. There will be speakers from different midwest Gay Liberation groups and from other movement groups. After the rally, people will leave Bughouse Square and the fear, shame, and repression it represents, and march to Chicago's famed Water Tower on Michigan Avenue (the Magnificent Mile) where we will proclaim to the world that we're here, we're free, we're proud, and that we'll do our thing when and where we like. Later Saturday events will be the conference plenary, further workshops, and a communal dinner. At 8:00, a coalition of gay and straight men, who support Women's Liberation, will demonstrate against the exploitation of women for commercial profit. Our target is the arch-maintainer of women's oppression: The Playboy Empire. For exact location contact Shep, MI 30800, Ext 3374. There will be parties later in the evening.

Sunday afternoon we will join our straight brothers and sisters for a free rock concert in Lincoln Park (just south of the Zoo). Sunday night, at the Aragon Ballroom (1106 W. Lawrence), is the giant Gay Pride Dance. Tickets are $2 donation, available at the door. Bands, light shows, other sensations!! For further information on the dance or rally, call 935-0148-Jerry, 281-7352-Gary, or 281-0457-Mike. Gay Women's Liberation, 955-7433-Nancy or Sue. Chicago Gay Liberation Newsletter, 528-8716-Tom. WOODSTOCK FILM:
CULTURAL RIPOFF

Woodstock is one of the great events in the history of the youth culture. We the youth are the ones who supplied the energy to make Woodstock. We are the actors in the film who didn't get paid a cent for making the film. We brought the greatest element to the land which was love for each other. But capitalists have stolen our energy and our love. They put it on film and make our brothers and sisters pay to see the people.

Therefore we the youth nation must demand that the film with our free energy and love, must be shown free or 75%of profits be given to the youth nation to set up free medical clinics.

Woodstock is now in our community at the Fox Village Theatre. To help stop this rip-off, meet at the DIAG, 14 JUNE at 7:30. Transportation will be needed to give people rides to the theatre.

ARM

As many of us have observed, news and information of real interest to the people is far too often omitted, distorted, or misrepresented by the pig media, reaching us days or weeks late through the underground media, of in the form of fast, but unreliable gossip.

ARM, an open coalition of movement media groups, has proposed the formation of a mimeographed daily, to contain world, national and local news, compiled from pig media and world liberation movement sources; political/cultural movement news, features, statements and announcements; short reviews and essays.

ARM earnestly invites people to participate at any and all levels; news of group meetings and announcements is needed; community news and tips; other articles; help is needed with production and distribution. On a continuing basis, several people are needed to assume editorial responsibilty, and several to do cultural reviews and essays.

There has been significant interest expressed in this project. More interested people are needed in order to start. Will you help?

Call George dePue, ARM, 662-0582, or drop by the Canterbury House around noon.

PIG POLLUTION

YPSILANTI IN HEAT

There generally isn't too much that happens in the small college town of Ypsilanti, but times are changing, even in Ypsilanti.

Last week the young people rose up to show just how they felt about Babylon. The tension had been building for a long time due to the increased student restrictions, the dissmissal of seven radical teachers, the invasion of Cambodia by Nixon Inc., and the murers at Kent State, Augusta, and Jackson.

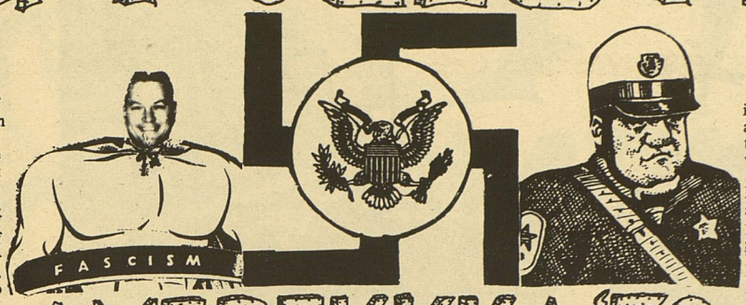
On Monday, a rally was planned to deliver a list of demands by the students. They were met by four bus loads of Washtenaw County Police. All dressed in black boots and black uniforms. They also had an assortment of firearms which included twelve machineguns. The people took to the streets.

Confrontations were waged all night. Windows were smashed out of every bank and also in a few university buildings. One sister fought furiously with four pigs. She knocked two of them down and got away. Eighty-three arrests were made-all were charged with inciting to riot.(later the charges were dropped and changed to diorderly conduct and tresspassing)

The next night the people took to the streets again. There was a ten-thirty curfew placed on the campus so this brought the pigs in again. More confrontations were waged, more windows were smashed and fires were set in the streets. and twenty-four more arrests were made-all were charged with curfew violations.

Wednesday, an eight o'clock curfew was put on the town with all streets leading in and out of town blocked off. The town was too quiet so the police bombarded dormitories and apartments buildings with tear gas. When the people came out to escape the gas, shots rang out. Three fell to the ground. One hit in the neck, and two in the chest. One person suffered a collapsed lung due to the excessive amount of gas in his room, and more arrests were made for curfew violations.

For three days and nights the young people of Ypsilanti took the offensive and waged action against the enemy. The price was high-three shot and one hundred and seventy three arrests. The war has come home to Ypsilanti.



AMERIKKKA '70

AGAIN... AND AGAIN... AND AGAIN HARVEY

On 10 May in Chelsea there was a small get-together on state owned land for the people. It was organized by the White Panther brothers of Chelsea merely as a picnic for everyone to run free on the land and have a crazed time.

As usual, the "good" citizens of Chelsea were outraged when they heard of the upcoming picnic, and they began talking about the hippy love-in rock and roll dope party to everyone. Soon every decent person around knew of the love-in that was supposed to happen, even the wicked Sheriff of Nottingham Doug Harvey.

Harvey was more than willing to respond to the gossip that was perpetuated by the citizens of Chelsea, and he once again decided to enforce Law and Order to the fullest extent. He and his small platoon of armed brown shirts overran the peaceful gathering at three in the afternoon, cracking a few heads and making four arrests.

As the cavalry arrived that Sunday, the people (around 50) began to flock around the pig cars to see what the sudden disruption was about. The only explanation they could get was that it was pig harassment. Harvey was playing his macho John Law bit of 'I'm Doug Harvey the sheriff of this county and what I say goes, you godamned communists.' Once he got started, he had to prove his point by personally beating a brother to the ground (as two other brown shirts held him by the arms) and then arresting him. The brother was then put in a squad car and the pigs drove him away from the scene of the crime just as abruptly as they had arrived. The fascist buffoons then stopped the car a mile down the road and began madly beating him to teach him that he had no rights at all, and that those mad dogs had the power to do what they wanted.

When they arrived at the county sty, the brother was threatened with being charged with assault on an officer if he didn't give up information about the dope that is in Chelsea, and who is selling it. "Chelsea is where all this dope is coming from and we know it. One of our jobs is to get that shit out of that town." After the useless interrogation, the brother was released and all the bogus charges were dropped.

Harvey has once again proved that the only way he will deal with young people is through violence. He will not take any other alternative. He has no humane concern for anyone who does not have on a badge, a suit, a uniform, or a tight skirt.

This mad dog and all of his pack must be curbed, and their fascist blood thirsty reign over the people of Washtenaw County must cease, or many more people will become the victims of Law and Order.

RAILROADED

The trial of Charles Thomas is going into its third month of pre-trial motions and hearings. His laywers are attempting to get the court to throw out the arrest warrant, because the pigs are lying again.

At the militant BAM rally in the Peoples Plaza 19 March, somebody threw a jagged piece of cement at Ann Arbor policeman James Schook. When punk squealer Mark Parin (exposed in Argus) heard about the felonious assult two weeks later, he claimed that he saw the whole thing and that Charles Thomas had done it. His big pig friends patted him on the snout and told him he would go far.

Schook then swore out a complaint before his friend Judge Pete Thomassen but he neglected to take young Mark along as a witness. The defense motion now pending claims that this complaint was not issued on Schook's " personal knowledge" but rather " information and belief ". So according to Michigan Supreme Court decisions, the warrant that resulted in Thomas getting dragged out of bed at three o'clock in the morning is invalid.

The hearing for this motion was set for 3:30 p.m. the tenth of June in Ross Campbells courtroom in the county building. If the motion is denied, its record still might make good material for a reversal on appeal. The next step is the selection of a jury, and there will be more news later.

GET HIGH DON'T BUY

Campus Corners has the highest bust rate of shop-lifters in the Ann Arbor area. They seem never to fail to catch the people who liberate from there, because once you make it out the door two big goons chase you and even beat you with baseball bats.

Only real pigs would use these strong arm tactics against the people.

PROLETAIRES DE TOUS LES PAYS, NATIONS ET PEUPLES OPPRIMES, UNISSEZ-VOUS!!

Paris (LNS)– A new "anti-destroyer" law was passed April 30 in France, a natural offspring of the conspiracy laws which have long been a part of the French political scene. Since the great rebellion of May, 1968, the French government has attempted to stamp out the revolutionary fervor of the left by various legal and illegal tactics.

President Pompidou, the "renovated" Gaullist, and Chaban-Dalmas have attempted to enforce the creation of the "New Society" by appealing to the "silent majority" of the French people. The government's appeal is basically the same as Nixon's– to violently repress the small noisy minority so as to get on with the business of making it better for those in power.

The new law seeks to "curb certain new forms of delinquency." It is the latest cresting of a wave of repression in France which in the past few months has seen a large number of "preventative" arrests, the harassment of those who have sought to publish or sell various radical newspapers, the imprisonment either with or without trial of over 100 people for "extreme left-wing" activities, the dismissal of many radical teachers and professors at all levels of the educational system, and the outright banning of many leftist political meetings on the grounds that they constitute a threat to the public order.

These measures have not succeeded if stifling the activities of the French left. This past winter and spring have seen a resurgence of popular revolt in every segment of French society. Farmers have kidnapped government officials. They have attacked police stations and other agencies of the central government in every section of France. Small merchants, the traditional backbone of the solidly entrenched French bourgeoisie have led a series of tax strikes against the government, and have participated in a massive campaign to withdraw their money from government-controlled banks. Truck drivers have blocked major highways repeatedly to support these efforts. Students have fought against the invasion of their campuses by police at Nanterre and elsewhere. Radical commando groups have led a series of raids on the offices of companies which exploit hundreds of thousands of foreign workers. Spearheading all these actions had been prolonged and powerful wildcat strikes by workers in every segment of French industry.

Pompidou's "New Society" was threatened enough by these activities to accede to the demands of its own right-wing to draw up a set of proposals to deal with this rash of "criminal acts." With the 75% majority the government party (UDR) enjoys in parliament, the proposals had little difficulty in becoming law.

The text of the "anti-destroyer" law is blunt and clear in intent. It is an attempt to assign collective responsibility to political disorders of every kind. The law affixes responsibility for any damage done in the course of an action not only to every leader of every group involved, but also, and more incredibly, to every member of every group, whether or not that individual member had anything to do with that particular action. In other words, under the terms of the law, it would be perfectly "legal" for the government to bust a member of an organization which has taken part in an action, even though that particular member may have been a thousand miles away at the time.

Under the law, everyone termed to be a leader (either spontaneously or with premeditation) of an action of "violence committed against persons or property" is to be imprisoned for one to five years. Everyone judged to be a member of one of the organizations sponsoring or taking part in such an action can be jailed from 3 to 24 months. In addition (and here is the civil responsibility) everyone so convicted is to be held responsible financially for any physical disabilities or material damages that may result from the actions. The law states that anyone who enters a home or place of work of a citizen, and who threatens that citizen with harm (whether harm is done or not) is liable to the same penalties. The law is expanded to include those who invade a place devoted to "administrative, scientific, or cultural activities" (university or government offices) and who remain in those offices against the wishes of the authorities.

Further, with an eye to the recent rash of kidnappings in France, as well as a frightened glance at the diplomatic kidnappings of Latin America, the last section of the law states that all those "who detain, arrest, or kidnap anyone without the express order of the delegated authorities" will be sentenced from two years to life, depending on the length of time that person was detained. (Ten days give the kidnappers 10-20 years. One month brings them life imprisonment.)

The French revolutionaries have celebrated the second anniversary of the days of May and have shown their contempt fro this new law by responding with an offensive consisting of a least 30 bombings in 15 cities in a ten-day period– targets have been police stations, tax offices, courthouses, relay stations, and other installations.

On the night of May 27, large-scale street-fighting broke out throughout the left bank of Paris. Earlier that day, two editors of a leftist magazine went on trial, accused of crimes against state security. That same day, the organization to which they belong, La Gauche Proletarienne (The Proletarian Left), a revolutionary Maoist group, was officially banned.

Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin described La Gauche Proletarianne as "the most dangerous ultra-leftist" group in France. The organization consists of about 500 activists who publish the journal The People's Cause. The magazine has had three successive editions seized by the police.

The editors of the first two editions, Jean-Pierre le Dantec and Michel de Bris, both in their twenties, were arrested in April. The government claims that certain articles in their journal justify the use of "incendiary devices, explosives, and murder."

After the two were arrested, Jean-Paul Sartre announced that he would assume the editorial position for the third edition of the magazine, thereby daring the French authorities to arrest him also, an action that could spark world-wide protest.

Instead of arresting Sartre, the government's Department of Justice opened proceedings on May 23 against "John Doe." They then proceeded to investigate, legally, both the magazine and the organization.

The trial of Jean-Pierre le Dantec and Michel de Bris lasted only one day. Before the two were sentenced, the Judge asked of le Dantec, "Do you believe in the honor of the French law?"

Dantec replied, "I believe in popular justice."

He was sentenced to a year in jail. Le Bris to 8 months. They left the courtroom with fists raised.

Two nights of heavy street fighting followed the trial. 487 arrests were made and 80 pigs injured on the night of May 27. Fighting continued all afternoon and all night the next day, May 28. Early that evening Marcellin went on television to assure the public that there would be no repetition of the events of May 1968.

"This must stop," he announced. "The hour of justice is now. It is up to the courts to suppress all acts of violence which cannot be tolerated in a free country like France."

Police occupied a building of the Sorbonne because, according to the Dean of the Faculty of Sciences, "the presence of armed bands posed a threat to the scientific installations in the building."

Students used catapaults to hurl rocks at police from the roofs of buildings. During the fighting, a branch of the Banque de Nationale de Paris (France's Bank of America) was totally destroyed. No money was stolen. By the end of May 28, there were 250 more arrests and 100– half of them pigs– were injured.

On May 29, a steady rain is falling on a Paris filled with police, armored cars, and bulldozers– at least until the weather clears, the fighting is suspended.

BOYCOTT MEXICO

Mexican students are calling for a holiday tourist boycott by U.S. students to protest the brutal treatment and harsh sentences meted out to political prisoners in Mexico.

Student organizers feel that properly implemented, this type of campaign must succeed because Mexico can not exist without tourists. They point out that while a student boycott will definitely put the economy on a downhill trend, this will do no marked harm to the Mexican people because the economy is not designed to aid them in the first place. Spread the word:

BOYCOTT MEXICO AND FREE ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS.

BARRACKS BURNED

Five U.S. Army barracks were burned to the ground in Pochon, South Korea by about 50 black soldiers who were protesting racist discrimination within the Army. Several black soldiers had been arbitrarily denied passes by the brass. $50,000 damage was done.

U.S. INVADED BY CANADIAN YIPPIES

A mob of 1000 Canadian revolutionaries, members of the Northern Lunatic Fringe (NLF) and the Vancouver Liberation Front, assaulted the U.S. border town of Blaine, Washington on May 9. The group, chanting POWER TO THE PEOPLE and SEIZE THE TIME, ran past border guards and down the main street where they were confronted by the pistol toting mayor. They succeeded in tearing down two amerikan flags before police, aided by local honky right-wingers, chased them back to Canada. The invaders caused 50-100,000 dollars damage after trashing a trainload of amerikan cars.

BLOWS AGAINST THE EMPIRE...

REVOLUTIONARY WOMEN VISIT HANOI

Three revolutionary women from Woodstock Nation, Judy Gumbo, Genie Plamondon, and Nancy Kurshan Rubin, are meeting in Hanoi with North Vietnamese youths for two weeks. The women arrived at Moscow's International Airport on May 18th and stayed a week with the friendly Russian people before their departure for Hanoi. Genie is Minister of Foreign Affairs of the White Panther Party.

PANTHER POWER

A Harvard microbiologist who won the 1970 Eli Lilly award for being the first to isolate a pure gene said recently he will turn the $1000 honorarium over to the Black Panther Party. Dr. Jonathan R. Beckwith, 34, explained that "my concern about the misuses of science in this country has increased and my feeling of the necessity for scientists to take clear positions has increased."

He said he was giving the money to the Panthers to help "an organization which I believe is making some important contributions to changing society so that it serves the people."

CAMBODIAN COMMIES ARM PEOPLE

—Associated Press, New York Times, May 7, 1970.

"The French manager of a rubber plantation caught in the fighting here said today that the North Vietnamese had armed most of his 1,600 workers and had taken them along as they fled from U.S. tank and air attacks."

The plantation manager remarked, "They gave guns to the people and now they are fighting along with the Vietcong. We cannot stay. The Americans have been here, and now nobody would ever trust us again."

PUERTO RICANS TAKE TO NEW YORK STREETS

May 12- Hundreds of Puerto Rican young people fought the pigs and liberated part of their neighborhood until the Tactical Mobile Force occupied and surrounded the community while standing watch with rifles on rooftops. The fighting began after the pigs began to hassle a woman who was taking a walk in the Spanish-speaking lower east side.

FRANCE BOMBARDED

May 12- A section of the Transeuropean oil pipeline was destroyed by a bomb.

The homes of three Gaullist members of the National Assembly were firebombed on three successive nights.

May 20- Nine fires were set simultaneously in the library of the University of Dijon, causing extensive damage. A government tax office was firebombed in Lyon.

May 21- The provincial courthouse in Angers was blown up by a gigantic blast. A 150-stick dynamite bomb was discovered on the steps of main post office in Chambery.

INDIANS SEIZE TIME

American Indians have seized numerous government Bureau of Indian Affairs offices in Littleton, Colorado, Gallup, New Mexico, Minneapolis, Chicago, and Cleveland. The actions have occurred to protest job discrimination, economic exploitation, inadequate educational facilities, cultural repression, unemployment, the breaking of many treaties, and overall colonialism.

CUBA CONQUERS MALARIA

The United Nations children's organization UNICEF recently published a report stating that Cuba has eliminated malaria, while other countries are still far from this goal.

"The program of eradication of malaria has reached a stable level. All the control and preventive activities have integrated themselves into the infra-structure of regular health services. No malaria cases were registered in 1969 and it can be said that the elimination of malaria in Cuba has been accomplished."

HUEY WILL BE SET FREE!

May 28, 1970– The California Court of Appeals, a three-judge panel, reversed the September, 1968 manslaughter conviction of Huey P. Newton, co-founder and Minister of Defense of the Black Panther Party. Huey will be free from imprisonment in San Luis Obispo, California within 60 days unless the state attorney general decides to either re-try Huey on involuntary manslaughter charges or appeal the reversal to the state supreme court. At first, the state charged Huey with the murder of Oakland pig John Frey, kidnapping of a man named Dell Ross, and assault with a deadly weapon on pig Herbert Heans. He was acquitted on the kidnapping and assault charges, but was sentenced to 2 to 15 years after being convicted on a compromise manslaughter count. Huey, who is recognized by the revolutionary movement as one of the foremost black liberation fighters, has been denied parole twice. As a political prisoner, he has refused to cooperate in any way with the prison system. On June 3, the state Court of Appeals denied Huey bail after Panther attorney Charles Garry had pleaded in court for it on June 1st. The state is expected to appeal the May 28 verdict reversal soon.

PICK UP THE GUN TO PUT DOWN THE GUN

The Semi-Automatic Rifle

The main difference between the semi-automatic rifle and the bolt action is that the semi-automatic utilizes some of the energy of the cartridge to open and close the bolt, so all the shooter does is pull the trigger for each shot. This creates two big advantages over the bolt action. First, you can shoot more shots more quickly, since the bolt is opened and closed automatically, practically instantaneously. Also, many semi-automatic rifles have bigger magazine capacities.

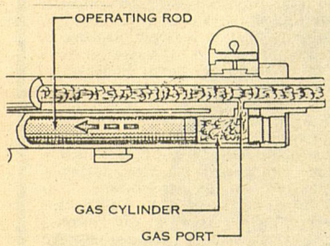
Second, with a semi-automatic you don't have to move your hand, you can keep your eye lined up on the sights from one shot to the next. With the bolt action you have to take your hand off the trigger to open the bolt and in doing so you set up the sight pattern; you then have to line up the sights for the next shot. This takes more time and you may have difficulty pinpointing the target again.

For most purposes then, the semi-automatic is preferable to the bolt action, although for extremely long range shooting a good bolt action is more accurate. Also, a semi-automatic may experience some feeding problems if hollow point or soft point ammo is used.

How the semi-automatic rifle works

Basically, the semi-automatic works by tapping off some of the high pressure gas in the barrel (after the bullet is fired) to operate a small piston which drives a rod that pushes the bolt back. As the bolt gets slammed back, it also compresses a spring that pushes the bolt forward. Notice the small hole in the barrel near the end of the muzzle. When the bullet goes past this hole, some of the high pressure gases flow through this hole into the cylinder just below the barrel, slamming the piston back with great force. This piston imparts with great momentum to the operating rod to make it go all the way back, opening the bolt, extracting the case, cocking the firing pin and compressing the return spring. The return spring then returns the bolt.

To load the first cartridge into the chamber you obviously cannot utilize energy of the fired cartridge, so to load the first bullet the operating rod must be pulled back by hand.



Type of Rifle to buy

Every self-defense cadre needs at least one high-powered bolt-action rifle, preferably mounted with a four power scope (or better). This is a deadly sniper weapon and one shot will be sufficient, if your aim is correct. The best bolt-action rifle to get would be a 30-06 caliber because of its power and accuracy. Model 1895 and 1898 Mausers in European calibers such as 8 mm, 7.65 mm, and 7 mm Mauser, plus model 1914 Enfield in 303 are all very good guns and can be quite accurate except the standard sights are very poor. These guns can be bought for about 30 to 50 dollars in excellent or new condition.

Model 1903, Springfield, 1917 Enfield, and 1898 Mauser (all 30-06) are the best Amerikan bolt-action rifles made. They are capable of extremely high accuracy but the standard sights are poor. These are all military rifles and can be bought for 50 to 60 dollars in new condition.

Sporterized Springfields and Mausers are more accurate, the stock is easy to hold for accurate shooting, adjustable sights, and lighter trigger pull. Also it is easy to mount a scope on sporterized rifles, where on military rifles they will need to be machined so that the scope can fit. These rifles run from 75 to 125 dollars.

Better quality bolt action rifles, such as the Winchester Model 70, Remington Model 700, Browning bolt action, Ruger Model M70 are very accurate rifles, although cheaper sporters will sometimes match them. 125 to 175 dollars.

The semi-automatic is the most widely used rifle around, mainly because of its rapid fire power in shoot-outs and in assaults to annihilate the enemy. They can fire eight to thirty rounds in a matter of seconds (varies on the type of rifle and the size of the clip), and are very deadly in long range shoot-outs.

Some semi-automatics can be diverted into fully automatic and can fire up to 200 rounds per minute; such a weapon is the M16.

The M16 is used by the fascist army and has replaced the M14. The M16 is a 5.56 mm, magazine fed, gas operated, air cooled, shoulder weapon. It can fire either semi-automatically or fully automatically by changing a lever. Heat resistant material made of fiberglass surrounds the barrel. Grenades or rockets can be launched also from this weapon. The gun can hold a 20 or 30 round magazine. The caliber of the bullet is one of the most deadly, for when it hits the target it tumbles and tears everything it hits.

Semi-automatically, it will fire 45 to 65 rounds per minute; fully automatically it fires 150 to 200 rounds per minute. The killing range is up to 55
65 rounds per minute; fully automatically it fires 150 to 200 rounds per minute. The killing range is up to 500 yards. The ammo this gun shoots (5.55 mm also called .223 caliber) weighs half as much as the M14 or M1 garand, and it is possible to carry twice as much ammo.

You will not be able to buy this gun in a store because it is illegal, but there is a commercial gun being sold almost exactly like it. It is the AR15. The difference is that it does not have the fully automatic lever and is built lighter. (weighs 5 lbs.)

The gun will cost 250 to 350 dollars, with a scope mounted in a gun shop. This weapon is perfect for assaults and for defense because of its rapid fire and magazine capacity.

The M14 is a gas operated, air cooled magazine fed shoulder weapon. It will hold 20 rounds of 7.62 mm nato caliber (.308 in English) ammo. It can be converted into a fully automatic by removing the selection lock and replacing it with a selector pin. It can fire 20 to 30 rounds semi-automatically and 40 to 60 rounds fully automatic per minute. The maximum killing range is 500 yards. Because of its weight (9 lbs.), weight of the ammo, and length (44.14 inches), the gun is not as effective at close range as the more compact M16.

This gun is also illegal and is not sold in stores but if you have a chance to get one do it.

The M1 Garand is a 30-06 gas powered, semi-automatic rifle. It is a powerful and accurate gun and there are lots of them around. They are legal and cost 100 to 150 dollars in a store. They are very good for long range shoot-outs or any long range battles.

The M1-30 caliber carbine is a gas powered, air cooled, semi-automatic weapon. It is a short gun and weighs only 5½ pounds. It shoots a small cartridge much smaller than the 30-06. The gun is accurate up to 150 yards and should be used mainly for close sudden shoot-outs (defending your home). The gun is easy to handle because of its size and gives a great deal of fire power, although it is not recommended for long period battles because of its tendencies to overheat and jam.

Current price is 80 to 100 dollars surplus. Two commerical versions are made by Universal and Plainfield.

The F.N. Model 1949 semi-automatic, gas powered rifle is an all around excellent weapon. It is light weight [around 6½ lbs.] and has only a slight recoil action as each round is fired enabling the shooter to fire five rounds without the piece rising or lowering. It has power and almost pin-point accuracy at 300 meters.

The F.N. Model 49 is easily dismantled and cleaned at night, holds ten rounds, and the price is a little cheaper—around $80 to $90 in 7 mm. and around $100 in .30-06.

ELDRIDGE FROM ALGERIA

(from the Black Panther)

METHOD, TIME, AND REVOLUTION

Many people can absolutely agree on the inescapable necessity of destroying the system of oppression under which we now suffer, and for replacing it with something better. But what divides us is the questions of How? and When?

How do we move, precisely, to successfully accomplish our goal without, in the process, negating our goal?

When do we move?

Once we realize what has to be done and also how to do it, we enter the political movement, and after that, the way that we move defines us politically. The explanation as to why we choose to move in a certain way requires a psychiatrist– for us, Fanon. (By now, we should all have studied Fanon's THE WRETCHED OF THE EARTH:)

We believe that Huey P. Newton, after carefully defining our present situation, discovered the form that our struggle must take in order to successfully achieve our goal. And he also showed us when to move.

Huey defined the situation of Black people inside the United States as a domestic colony of U.S. imperialism. A colony inside the very lair of the rapacious beast of imperialism. A colony sharing the same land mass as the colonizers, the population of the colony dispersed throughout the population of the colonial power. Neither separated by either land or water.

Huey defined the police department as the strong-arm force used by the imperialists to suppress the colonized people, terrorize them, and keep them in check. This is a constant process of brutalization, because the people are constantly moving to break their chains. Huey said that the police departments occupy our Black communities the same way and for the same purpose as a foreign troop occupies conquered territory. To free ourselves from the system of oppression, Huey said that we had to liberate ourselves from this strong-arm force. We had to break the power of the gun which this strong-arm force relies on to keep us at bay. Because of the very nature of the conflict, Huey said that we must use guns to offset the guns of the pigs.

"We must organize ourselves in a political fashion and take up arms," Huey would say.

When looking at Black people as a whole, Huey saw that the brothers and sisters off the block, the Black Lumpen within the urban centers, constituted the explosive point, that section of our people so situated that they have no choice but to move. Historically, the White racist system of oppression and exploitation has held out only death and destruction to our people as an alternative to slavery.

The prospects for brothers and sisters off the block are prison, death, the U.S. Armed Forces, or a short, hard, and bitter life. All alternatives provided for us by the system have in common that we are unnaturally destroyed– destroyed by the very functioning of the system of oppression, which is controlled by other men of another social class. The only redeeming path left open to us is the path of total war against the system of oppression against which each succeeding generation of our people have struggled for 400 years.

Pigs stand in line with programs and games of disaster to run down on Black people. But now that Black people have begun to run down a program for themselves, pigs get uptight. The foundation of the Black Panther Party is the 10 Point Program and Platform. This is why the hand picked apologists for the system of oppression always try to criticize and belittle our Program and Platform. Some of them say that it is not revolutionary. Others say that it is full of hate. But it is our own program and platform, drawn up for ourselves by ourselves. And it will be us who will change it or revise it when and if we see fit. Our ideology is reality and our program and platform is designed to cope with and control the reality of our daily lives, our destiny.

The real daily life of oppressed people is Political Education. Reality becomes their ideology. With them, theory is united with practice because they know that literally they are struggling to survive against odds, against a gigantic international system of oppression that is specifically designed to destroy them. There are other classes of people to whom the oppression is abstract. In a poetic fashion, they know that, theoretically, they are also oppressed, etc. They relate to news of events and we compose the event itself. We relate to the event, they relate to news of the event. We are in a category of our own. America is a class and ethnic society, and the systematic oppression and exploitation of Black people is specifically structured and well-placed in the design of Babylon.

Brother Malcolm made it clear that history defined is ideology. The Black Panther Party says that the historical experiences of Black People is the foundation of our ideology. We transform our history into our ideology when we interpret it with scientific principles of universal application.

When Huey and Bobby launched the Black Panther Party, the only people who were willing to follow them, then, were the stone lumpen. The stomp-down Black lumpen proletariat is the backbone of the Black Panther Party. Without this backbone, the Party would only be a reflection of one of those mother country debating societies that take Marx and Lenin for their text.

The Black Lumpen, the brothers and sisters off the block, can relate to their Party, the Black Panther Party, but they cannot relate to the category of the Working Class. From their perspective, the Working Class is part of the problem–at least the right wing of the Working Class.

THE CONTRADICTION BETWEEN THE LUMPEN PROLETARIAT AND THE RIGHT WING OF THE WORKING CLASS IS QUALITATIVELY INDISTINCT FROM THE CONTRADICTION BETWEEN THE LUMPEN AND OTHER CATEGORIES OF PIGS.

Before our people were crushed down into the position of slaves, we were well organized. Our history since that time has been an unbroken struggle to get reorganized. Only by organizing ourselves can we get the freedom, security, and respect that we lost. There are more Black people in the United States than there are pigs of the ruling class. Our population is larger than that of many sovereign nations of the earth. But only by relentlessly struggling can we smash out of the trickbag that we have been placed in.

Pigs, White racist pigs, say that Black people should not fight for their rights, that they should be peaceful, moderate, and reasonable. History will show that Black people have pursued their freedom and liberation with the utmost restraint, with patience, and long suffering. In fact, history will show that the pigs drove us to our knees, and that, down on our knees in the Luther King position, we begged for mercy. Down on our knees we begged White racist pigs for mercy. And not only did these pigs deny us justice, they denied us mercy. They denied us humanity itself. So let them criticize our weapons all they want to; let us move on them, criticizing them with our weapons.

'Mercy' is not a word one should throw around loosely. Mercy is the other side of the coin of Pity. Mercy and Pity are civilized notions. They are, in fact, essential elements of a true civilization. When Mercy and Pity are absent in any social organization, that society cannot be classified as civilized. Measured by that standard, Babylon must be totally destroyed–and with Pity: Pity each pig heart that we cut out of a pig's chest, Pity it to death.

When we begged for mercy we were the Blues People. We are not begging anymore and we are Black people. And pigs can't dig it, can't relate to it. For instance, they have provoked us to madness.

Madness. People are right when they say that Black people are not in a position to face down the pigs on their level. But we are in a position to implement head-up murder. We can guarantee the total destruction of Babylon–with a form of struggle that pigs will call madness. But madness is the Black man's hydrogen bomb inside Babylon, and we must unleash this hydrogen bomb, now, because pigs are carrying out a genocidal conspiracy of extermination against our people. And since we have everything in the pot, why shouldn't everything and everybody in Babylon be in the pot with us? The name of the pot is Babylon.

By two Daughters of the American Revolution

WOMEN AND CULTURE

The Daughters of the American Revolution have a few things to say to the dudes who dominate and pretty much control our culture. We know that most of you don't understand what we are trying to say, don't understand how hard it is for us to speak of our needs, and think our seriousness is irrelevant. We ain't pissed off anymore; we're just wondering when you're gonna get hip to us.

It's not too late for us young chicks to organize our lives...have you ever analyzed the reasons for your mother's craziness? Crazy comes from millions of dishes, thousands of loads of laundry, slip covers on all the furniture, and no chance to tell your old man to fuck off because the only thing you know how to do is Maid Duty. Leaving the housewife world to enter the "business" world means millions of letters to type, thousands of envelopes to lick, slip covers on all the typewriters, and a "boss" who is your old man in disguise.

You know we ain't as crazy as your mother, because we like the same things you do—we like to fuck, we like to smoke dope, and we love rock and roll. Don't say 'what are you complaining about then?' because you're following in your father's footsteps when you fail to open your head and listen to us. A woman is not liberated just because she throws away her underwear and uses four letter words.

Listen to the rolling stones one more time—they'll tell you where you're at. Tunes like stupid girl and under my thumb are most obvious examples of the position you like to think you hold. We realize that you didn't write those tunes, but you listen to them all the time, and that fucked up consciousness influences all phases of your life, whether it be writing tunes for your own rock and roll band, organizing a record company, or rapping with your chums.

The radio dudes have switchboard operators, the newspaper men have typists, and the bands have seamstresses. What the fuck's going on?

Don't say 'the women have gone along with it all this time, so they must dig it,' because that's bullshit. In the past, women couldn't find any support from any where, but that's changing. You dudes in privileged positions should be using your power to draw women into equal positions. If you ain't, you should stop saying and believing that you serve our communities.

It's wierd that dudes don't see that women all around them are becoming totally committed to destroying the death culture. (our definition of death culture is the situation in which a person cannot be happy until he is dead. Until the patient expires, he or she has to go to school, has to get a good job, has to pay taxes to support beserko maniacs, and, in general, having fun and being natural is just not allowed. Separation and exploitation is the key is making the River of the Honk flow.)

Monkey-uncle sam loves it when the men and the women are fucked up and constantly fighting each other, because it keeps us from investigating any real problems that might exist. The beatles must love it too, because they write tunes like 'let it be let it be fucked up,' and separate themselves and their money from the rest of the planet.

What we're saying is that we can't let it be, make some ripples on the river of the honk or sink like the stones!

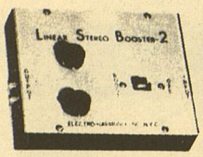
LSB-2 Linear Stereo Booster. A symmetrical push-pull preamplifier that can be used with your stereo pre-amp to improve the volume characteristic of your system without introducing any noise or distortion of your frequency response. It is designed primarily to be used in conjunction with a component that does not put out enough power. This can be either a low level device like a microphone or tape deck, or one that does not match your pre-amp properly. In either case, the LSB-2 can up to quadruple the volume of your system. Separate volume controls will allow great flexibility if you wish to mix two unmatched different level devices such as a microphone and phonograph.

LSB-1 Performs exactly as the LSB-2 except it has a fixed gain of 4 and no volume controls.



(Also available at your retail music or hi-fi store)

STEREO TONE EXPANDER Designed for the stereo buff who wants that extra dimension of tone control on his system. If you find that your stereo doesn't give you enough highs even when the treble control is turned to maximum, or enough lows when the bass control is turned to maximum, then the stereo tone exnander should be used in conjunction with your preamp. This unit is housed similarly to the LSB-2 except with two tone controls. Utilization of these controls will have the effect of extending your pre-amp controls virtually one extra rotation.

White Panther Medical Information Bulletin No. 1 (1000 distributed at free rock and roll concert, 15 June 1969)

VENEREAL DISEASE

Venereal disease is gotten by physical contact, almost always sexual contact, with a person who has the disease. It is not gotten from toilet seats, or through the air.

GONORRHEA (clap, a dose, the whites)

Signs of gonorrhea:

1. Burning with urination. This usually begins four to nine days after exposure. It is almost the only early sign of gonorrhea. A woman may have no early signs at all.
2. Pus discharging from the sex organs. This is a latter sign and means that the infection is well-established.
3. Pain in the genital area or deep in the pelvis. By this time, there is a good chance that the person may be sterile (unable to have children). A woman may need to be hospitalized and have her uterus and tubes removed.
4. Much later, gonorrhea may cause heart disease, arthritis, blindness, or death. In most people, it will make them unable to ever have children. All of these problems can be prevented by early and adequate treatment.

There is NO BLOOD TEST FOR GONORRHEA. Its presence can be proved only be examining the discharge from the genitals. Gonorrhea is most often diagnosed in women because a man with whom she has had sex gets the disease.

SYPHILIS

Signs of Syphilis:

1. The chancre. This usually looks like an ulcer, pimple, blister, or open sore. It is the first sign that a person has come in contact with syphilis, and usually appears two to three weeks after exposure. It is most often on or near the genitals, but the chancre can appear anywhere on the body. In men there is usually painless swelling of the lymph glands near the chancre. In women, both the chancre and the swollen lymph glands may be hidden inside. The chancre will disappear by itself, but the germs are still present, and the infected person can infect others.

If you are under 21 years old, most physicians still provide treatment without informing your parents.

REPORTING OF VENEREAL DISEASE

The law says that venereal disease must be reported to the Public Health Department. However, because so many patients ask their physicians not to, only a small percentage of cases are reported.

The Public Health Department is interested only in finding people who might have venereal disease, and in getting them treated. It is very discrete in investigation.

Having a venereal disease is not a crime. You cannot be prosecuted.

IF YOU EVEN SUSPECT THAT YOU MIGHT HAVE VENEREAL DISEASE, SEE A DOCTOR.

The Ann Arbor community, especially the youth community, needs medical assistance. Medical students, doctors, and all others wanting to serve the needs of the people contact Skip Taube, Minister of Education of the White Panthers at 761-1709.

CONTROL

CONTRACEPTIVE TECHNIQUES

METHOD	ACTION	ADVANTAGES/DISADVANTAGES	PRESCRIPTION	EFFECTIVENESS
1. Oral contraception	prevents ovulation	Convenience. Must follow schedule.	Yes	nearly 100%
2. IUD (intra-uterine device)	unknown	Always there when needed. Not suitable for everyone.	Yes	99-96%
3. Diaphram with cream or jelly	blocks and kills sperm	Inserted into vagina by hand before intercourse. No side effects.	Yes	92-93%
4. Vaginal foams, creams and jellies	kills sperm	Inserted into vagina immediately before intercourse.	No	80-93%
5. Condom (rubber)	blocks sperm from getting into uterus.	Apply over penis before intercourse Disposable. Many men object to condom.	No	91-93%
6. Rhythm or Safe Period	Intercourse only during safe period or no intercourse for a few days before and after ovulation.	Exact date of ovulation difficult to determine. Free	No	80-88%
7. Abstinence	Action obvious	Ethical principles.	No	100%

The following methods are all of such low effectiveness that they are generally unreliable:—Douching, Saran Wrap or Baggies used instead of real condoms, Withdrawal of the penis before ejaculation, intercourse with the penis against the vulva, but not inside the vagina.

*Based on Pearl's Formula—The percentage above refers to the number of women using the method for a period of one year who would NOT become pregnant.

FIGHTING THE MONSTER IN ANN ARBOR
PT. 3: Incendiaries

It's unfortunate that there are no explosives or incendiaries that are "safe" to produce. Safety precautions should be observed at all times in making these devices, and their production should be carried out in a disciplined way. I do not know for certain the origin of the Bastille Day Bulletin, from which most of the information below has been derived, nor do I know the qualifications or competence of its editors. My technical advisors, whom I know to be competent, have assured me that the descriptions in the Bulletin are accurate. Make these devices for two reasons: 1) To test them before employing them tactically. 2) To use them seriously for the destruction of an important target. Do no make them for "fun". Do not store them for long periods of time... Stockpiling volatile chemicals is generally unwise. Join us with both hands and both eyes.

CHEMICAL FIRE BOTTLE

This incendiary bottle is self-igniting on target impact.

MATERIALS REQUIRED	HOW USED	COMMON SOURCE
sulphuric acid	storage batteries material processing	motor vehicles industrial plants
gasoline	motor fuel	gas station or motor vehicle
potassium chlorate	medicine	drug store glass bottle with stopper (roughly 1 quart size) small bottle or jar with lid rag or absorbent paper (paper towels, newspaper) string or rubber bands

PROCEDURE

1. Sulphuric acid must be concentrated. If battery acid or other dilute acid is used, concentrate it by boiling until dense white fumes are given off. Container used should be of enamelware or oven glass.

CAUTION—Sulphuric acid will burn skin and destroy clothing. If any is spilled, wash it away with a large quantity of water. Fumes are also dangerous and should not be inhaled.

2. Remove the acid from heat and allow to cool at room temperature.

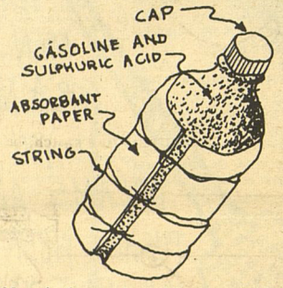
3. Pour gasoline into the large (1 quart) bottle until it is approximately 2/3 full.

4. Add concentrated sulphuric acid to the gasoline slowly until the bottle is filled to within 1 or 2 inches from the top. Place stopper on the bottle.

5. Wash the outside of the bottle thoroughly with clear water.

CAUTION—If this is not done, the fire bottle may be dangerous to handle during use.

6. Wrap a clean cloth or several sheets of absorbent paper aound the outside of the bottle. Tie with a string or fasten with rubber bands.



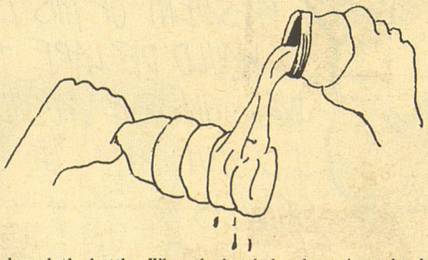
7. Dissolve 1/2 cup (100 gm) of potassium chlorate and 1/2 cup (100 gm) of sugar in one cup (250 cc) of boiling water.

8. Allow this solution to cool, pour into the small bottle and cap tightly. The cooled solution should be approximately 2/3 crystal and 1/3 liquid. If there is more liquid than this, pour off excess before using.

CAUTION—Store this bottle separately from the other bottle.

HOW TO USE

1. Shake the small bottle to mix contents and pour onto the cloth or paper around the large bottle. (Bottle can be used wet or after solution has dried. However, when dry, the sugar - potassium chlorate mixture is very sensitive to spark or flame and should be handled accordingly.)



2. Throw or launch the bottle. When the bottle breaks against a hard surface (target) the fuel will ignite.

CAUTION—Make sure there are no open flames in the area when mixing flame fuels. NO SMOKING!

FIRE TH

GELLED FLAME FUELS—WAX SYSTEMS

Any of several common waxes can be used to gel gasoline for use as a flame fuel which will adhere to target surfaces.

MATERIALS REQUIRED	PARTS BY VOLUME	HOW USED	COMMON SOURCE
gasoline	80	motor fuel solvent	gas station motor vehicles
Any one of the following:
ozocerite	20	leather polish	natural deposits
mineral wax		sealing wax	general stores
fossil wax		candles	department store
ceresin wax		crayons waxed paper textile sizing	department store
beeswax		furniture and floor waxes artificial fruit and flowers lithographing wax paper textile finish candles	honeycomb of bee general store department store
bayberry wax		candles	natural form
myrtle wax		soaps leather polish medicine	myrica berries department store drug store

PROCEDURE

1. Obtaining wax from natural sources: Plants and berries are potential sources of natural waxes. Place the plants and/or berries in boiling water. The natural waxes will melt. Let the water cool. The natural waxes will form a solid layer on the water surface. Skim off the solid wax and let it dry. With natural waxes which have suspended matter when melted, screen the wax through a cloth.

2. Melt the wax and pour into jar or bottle which has been placed in hot water bath.

3. Add gasoline to the bottle.

4. When wax has completely dissolved in the gasoline, allow the water bath to cool slowly to room temperature.

NOTE: If a gel does not form, add additional wax (up to 40% by volume) and repeat the above steps. If no gel forms with a 40% wax, make a lye solution by dissolving a small amount of lye (sodium hydroxide) in an equal amount of water. Add this solution (1/2% by volume) to the gasoline - wax mix and shake bottle until a gel forms.

CAUTION—Make sure there are no open flames in the area when mixing flame fuels. NO SMOKING!

GELLED FLAME FUELS—SOAP-ALCHOHOL SYSTEM

Common household soap can be used in combination with alchohol to gel gasoline for use as a flame fuel which will adhere to target surfaces.

MATERIALS REQUIRED	PARTS BY VOLUME	HOW USED	COMMON SOURCE
gasoline	36	motor fuel	gas station motor vehicles
ethyl alchohol	1	whiskey medecine	liquor store drug store

NOTE: Methyl (wood) or isopropyl (rubbing) alchohols can be substituted for the whiskey.

laundry soap	20 (powdered) or 28 (flake)	washing clothes	stores

NOTE: Unless the word "soap" actually appears somewhere on the container or wrapper, a washing compound is probably a detergent. THESE CANNOT BE USED.

PROCEDURE

1. If bar soap is used, carve into thin flakes using a knife.

2. Pour alchohol and gasoline into a jar, bottle, or other container and mix thoroughly.

3. Add soap powder or flakes to gasoline - alchohol mix and stir occasionally until thickened (about 15 minutes).

CAUTION—Make sure there are no open flames in the area when mixing flame fuels. NO SMOKING!

IS TIME

GELLED FLAME FUELS–EGG SYSTEMS

The white of any bird egg can be used to gel gasoline for use as a flame fuel which will adhere to target surfaces.

MATERIALS REQUIRED	PARTS BY VOLUME	HOW USED	COMMON SOURCE
gasoline	85
gasoline	85	motor fuel solvent	gas station motor vehicle
egg whites		food
egg whites	14	food industrial processes	food store farms
Any one of the following:
table salt	1	food industrial sea water industrial processes	food store sea water
sugar	2	food	food store
baking soda	1.5	baking	food store

PROCEDURE

1. Separate egg white from yolk. This can be done by breaking the egg into a dish and carefully removing the yolk with a spoon. NOTE: DO NOT GET THE YELLOW EGG YOLK MIXED INTO THE EGG WHITE. If egg yolk gets into the egg white, discard the egg.

2. Pour egg white into a jar, bottle, or other container, and add gasoline.

3. Add the salt (or other additive) to the mixture and stir occaisionally until gel forms (about 5 to 10 minutes).

NOTE: A thicker gelled flame fuel can be obtained by putting the capped jar in hot (65 degrees C) water for about 1/2 hour and then letting cool to room temperature.

ELECTRIC BULB INITIATOR

Mortars, mines and similar weapons often make use of electric initiators. An electric initiator can be made using a flashlight or automobile electric light bulb.

MATERIALS REQUIRED

electric light bulb and mating socket

coardboard or heavy paper

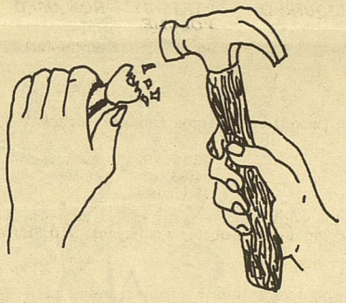
black powder

adhesive tape

PROCEDURE

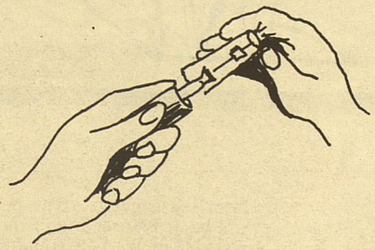
Method 1

1. Break the glass of the electric light bulb. Take care not to damage the filament. The initiator will not work if the filament is broken. Remove all glass above the base of the bulb.



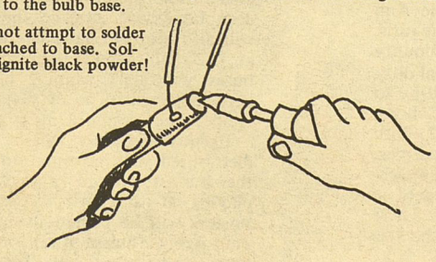
2. Form a tube 3 to 4 inches long form cardboard or heavy paper to fit around the base of the bulb. Join the tube with adhesive tape.

3. Fit the tube to the bulb base and tape in place. Make sure that the tube does not cover that portion of the bulb base that fits into the socket.

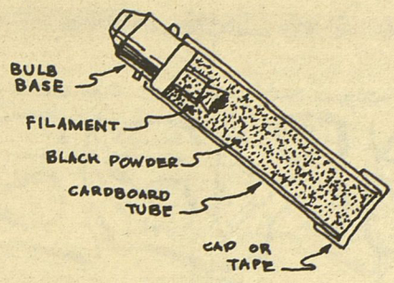


4. If no socket is available for connecting the initiator to the firing circuit, solder the connecting wires to the bulb base.

CAUTION–Do not attmpt to solder while tube is attached to base. Soldering iron may ignite black powder!



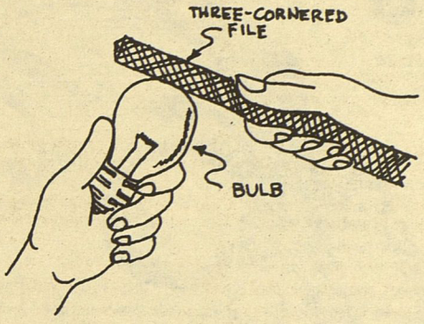
5. Fill the tube with black powder and tape the open end of the tube closed.



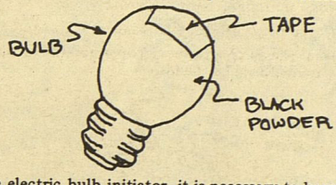
Method 2

If the glass bulb (electric light) is large enough to hold the black powder, it can be used as the container.

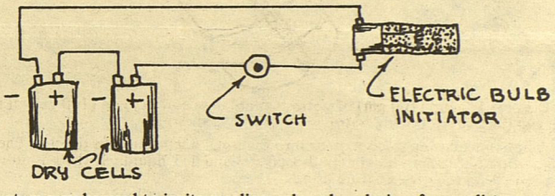
1. File a small hole in the top of the bulb.



2. Fill the bulb with black powder and tape the hole closed.



To fire the electric bulb initiator, it is necessary to have a source of electric current. Use large dry-cells of the same voltage as is regularly used with the bulb (e.g. 3 volts for a two-cell flashlight bulb, etc.). Wire batteries to a switch, be sure switch is off, then connect to initiator.



This system may be used to ignite gasoline, gels and explosives from a distance. An initiator may be attached to two spark plug wires. It will ignite when the ignition key is turned.

LETS COME TOGETHER LIKE WE DID LAST SUMMER!!!!

Gallup Park Program

After many months of planning, the summer free music program is going to begin June 14th. Meetings between Pete Andrews, community park organizer, and Don Borut, assistant city administrator went on and on until finally the program was organized.

The concerts will be held in Gallup Park (re-named Diana Oughton Memorial Park on Sunday afternoons. The park will open at 2p.m., with music from 3 p.m. until 6p.m. Formerly the park has been outside the Ann Arbor city limits, but on June 8th the park and part of the river was annexed to the city. Being part of the city, the park will now fall in the jurisdiction of the Ann Arbor police (it was under the jurisdiction of Douglas Harvey - county sheriff). But the only official duty of the Ann Arbor police will be to park cars at Huron High School, where all cars will be parked. With the absence of the uniformed pigs, a People's Peace Force - the Psychedelic Rangers - will be present in case the need for help arises. These people can be spotted by the teeshirts they'll be wearing.

The city has appropriated three buses for transportation to and from the concerts. The bus stops will be at Pioneer High School, the east side of West Park and S. University Street, in front of the Centicore bookstore, one of the buses will also stop at Trans-love located at 1520 Hill Street. The time the buses will start running has not been determined as of yet, but is cited to be around 1:30 p.m.

Each week there will be flyers distributed with information about the bus stops and who will be playing at the park. Also large posters will be posted through-out Ann Arbor. In case of rain, an alternate site will be the Big Steel Ballroom on S. Main Street.
